

Ali Kennedy Professional Bio

Ali, a US native, began her career as a broadcast journalist in Asia working for both ABS-CBN in Manila and Channel News Asia in Singapore. Today, Ali is a passionate communicator for the Christian faith. She sees the essence of her calling as being a “mouthpiece” of God's heart and Truth. She enjoys engaging people's deep questions in their own quest for meaning and faith. Ali is a published author and also is a certified professional Life Coach with the International Coach Federation (ICF) and runs a home-based coaching practice called Fuel for the Journey, dedicated to walking with people through the ups and downs of life, love and loss.

Ali completed her undergraduate studies in Comparative Religion from Princeton University (2006). She and her husband did an intensive year of study in Christian Apologetics at the Oxford Centre for Christian Apologetics (OCCA) in partnership with Ravi Zacharias International Ministries (2014). Ali then went on to complete her master's degree in Applied Theology from the University of Oxford (2017).

Ali serves in ministry alongside her husband, Noah, who is a pastor at an international church in Manila. They have three lively children, Kendal, Cora, and Caswell. For more on Ali, visit her website at www.alikennedy.com.
